

To Whom it may concern.

I want my voice to be heard regarding regulation of Satellite Radio. Simply put, the FCC should leave Satellite Radio alone. XM is a subscription service, one I choose to listen to. By it's very nature, it is not "broadcast", and is accessible by choice. I choose to listen. No one is compelling me to listen. As the nature and state of broadcast radio in this country is so abismal, and my choices are limited, XM provides me with the service I desire. If the NAB is so worried about competition, perhaps it should advise it's members to get better. Certainly the FCC's deregulation of ownership has impacted the quality of broadcast radio, this deregulation has impacted quality of programming (or lack thereof) and choice. Perhaps the FCC's time would be better spent reviewing it's current policy on ownership rather than considering petition 04-160. Simply put, ladies and gentleman, leave Satellite Radio alone!
